Judge Robert L. Stout, in a charge to the grand jury at the opening term of the Woodford Circuit Court here, handled the crime of vote buying "without gloves," and served notice through the grand jurors to the citizens and candidates for office in this judicial district that all cases of buying votes in the forthcoming State primary election will be thoroughly investigated and vigorously prosecuted.

"I am going to use you as the means of spreading this notice," said Judge Scott in addressing the jury. "Manifestly you have nothing to do with it, but I think it right and proper to call the attention, through you, not only of Woodford county, but of every county in this judicial district to this matter.

"There are two classes of men who commit this crime in elections. One class is the buyers and the other the sellers. Of the two classes I have infinitely more sympathy with the latter class.
Lots of times some poor fellow is unable to resist the temptation to sell his vote, and he is to be pitied. The man who buys votes is absolutely without excuse. The man who secures an office by the buying of votes is not the choice of the people, and is not fit to serve them. He is a receiver of stolen property and a thief. Such a man is not fit to hold an office."

Judge Stout said every man under suspicion of being guilty of buying votes in the coming primary in either Woodford, Scott, Franklin or Bourbon, would be investigated.

Mr. Jas. Maret,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Dear Sir:—
I am just in receipt of the Mt.
Vernon Signal of May 15th and want to thank you for it, especially because of an article written by Mr. Thos. Z. Morrow to your Mr.
Albright. This article reminds me of the fact that my two boys, one five years and the other three years old, (if I am not mistaken) are descendants of the Hon. Ben Hardin. Mrs. Clark was a daughter of Jas. P. Helm, who formerly lived in Elizabethtown in the old home. Mr. Helm's father was Mr. Ben Hardin Helm, which of course made the name, Ben Hardin, sound very familiar to me. I have great respect for this whole line of ancestors for my two children, and am very glad, indeed, to read the articles published in your paper.

In regard to the Booster Trip to Eastern Kentucky, I expect to be on this trip, and was on the one your paper speaks of a little over two years ago, and I cannot see why the people here in Louisville should not have at least ac-knowledgeed receipt of your request to help you in a particular undertaking. As your paper states they promised to do what they could for anything your community might want, it does seem to me that they ought not let any reasonable requests go practically unnoticed, which apparently is the case, from what you say. The stand you are taking in this matter may result in some good all around. It may make the people here in Louisville realize that those out in the State want to be friendly to the city, but it is only just and right that the city should meet you half way on any proposition that might arise.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

JAS CLARK, JR.

RESOLUTIONS

HALL OF ASHLAND LODGE NO.
640 F & A. M.

Whereas, It has pleased the great Creator of the universe to call Brother George Baker from labor on earth to rest and immortality in the Grand Lodge above, where the Supreme Grand Master himself presides; therefore Resolved, That we acknowledge the wisdom and goodness of our Supreme Grand Master, and bow in humble submission to the inevitable edict from the Supreme Grand Master; yet we mourn the death of our brother as one of whom we shall never more meet at the altar of Masonry until we gain admission into the Celestial Lodge on high, where he has preceded us; and we deplore his loss to the fraternity, to his family and friends, and to the community in which he lived.

Resolved, That in token of our sincere friendship and sympathy in the dark hour of this great affliction, and as a pledge of our fidelity to the memory of our deceased brother, we extend to the bereaved daughters the fraternal right hand of Free and Accepted Masonry; and with it the assurance that the Great Light, given of God to man, will guide them and us safely to that spiritual building, eternal in the heavens, where their loved ones now dwell, where the broken circle shall be reunited never again to be parted, and where they shall dwell together in peaceful happines forever and ever.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the record of the lodge, a copy sent to the two daughters of the deceased and a copy given Mt. Vernon Signal and Home Journal for publication.

"Kate, my sweetheart, Kate, I must have the answer"—"Yes - or - no?"

"Sam, I love you, but I must know something of your plans for the future. I know you have a nice house and farm, but to make a woman happy she must have something to go in that house."

"Now, my dear, I have attended to all that and shall do everything to make you happy and contented. You must have the sweetest little home in Rockcastle county."

"I am just back from Mount Vernon; went to see Mr. U. G. Baker, told him my troubles and he said, 'My boy, you are to be congratulated—you are certainly making a success.' 'I hear you are thinking of getting married.' 'That's the right step, my son.'"

"Now, make Miss Katie happy by coming to my store and selecting some nice furniture and carpets for the house (and don't forget to get her a kitchen cabinet.)"

"Sam, did Mr. Baker say whether he had any nice Range Stoves or not?"

"Why, sure, Kate, he has them by the car load, and he told me that if I liked he would sell us a Range for five dollars down and a dollar per week till it was paid for."

"Why, Sam! wasn't that nice of Mr.
Baker?" "Yes, indeed, our folks have always traded with Mr. Baker. Father bought knee pants for me from Mr. Baker twenty-five years ago." "Mr. Baker always treats you nice, his clerks are taught to treat you nice, and everyone is made to feel at home in his store."

"Yes, Sam, I have often heard father say that Mr.
Baker had made his success by treating the people nice and giving everyone a square deal." "That's true, Kate."

"Has Mr. Baker any pretty dishes to go in the cupboard and on that table he is going to sell you?" "Sure thing, Katie, he can furnish everything needed for the kitchen.
Why, he even buys churns by the car load." "Dearie, we will go to Mr. Baker's and select everything we need—furniture and carpets for the house—a beautiful Range Stove—all kinds of nice dishes—sifters, strainers, wash basins, water pails and every thing."

"We'll get our Dry Goods—Clothing—Groceries and provisions there too, won't we, Sam?"

"Sure thing, Katie, dear."
"Now, Sam, don't think I am too exacting, but promise me that you will go to Mr. Baker's and buy enough of that 'Victor' paint to brighten up the house with. You know a house should look pretty on the outside as well as inside."

"I know that, Kate, and I shall buy some floor paint and paint the kitchen floor and the porches. I shall get hard oil and varnish and fix up the stair way, too."

"O, Sam, you are the best man in the world, I know."
"Now get some of that good Roofing that Mr. Baker sells, and—now you stop, Sam."—"Nuf sed, we're off"

LOUISVILLE HAS PULLED OFF HER threatened stunt in the way of a booster excursion into the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. South Eastern Kentucky was luckily not included in its itinerary we therefore escaped the infliction of a visit of the wind jamming representatives of an arrogant, selfish, grasping, penurious, hog-gish, aggregation of humanity called a city—composed principally of "back itchers" that expects the mountains to continue the scratching, in fact to increase the number in the scratching squad forces, all without cost or any expected benefits in return. All for the itchers nothing for the scratchers.

It is unnecessary to state that these excursionists received good treatment in their trip last week through the mountains, that portion which, as yet, has not learned Louisville true "inwardness" from its newspapers to its business and professional men with notable exceptions. That city will no doubt, for a time, "draw the sheeps covering over the peepers" of the Eastern Kentucky Mountaineers until, like our South Eastern brethren discover that all is not "refined metal that throws off scintillations" when the "gateway to the South" (in small letters) is in question. Louisville is figuring on Eastern portion of the State sending a special train to State fair with a delegation of 500 back scratchers. This recalls the fact that thru the arbitrariness and bullheadedness of the Fair's Secretary last year our corn club's boy representative was deprived of making the trip to fair while those from everyone of the other 118 counties were accorded that privilege. Rockcastle has never received any satisfactory explanation of this unjust action yet Louisville still asks and expects our patronage. Last but not least instead of lending its assistance toward getting a highway put through the mountains the city newspapers opposed the movement and was discouraged by its business and professional men who seem to think it was no affair of theirs and if the mountaineers wanted a highway "let them dig it". To a man up a tree it looks like the members of the 250,000 population about 249,993 of them are afflicted with itching backs and expects to use us mountain people as "scratching posts."

A RESOLUTION will soon be introduced in Congress providing for the formation of a Roads Committee of twenty one members. The big cities and those interested in river and public building appropriations are dead against it. But victory in rules committee is a step in advance for rural congressmen, and to their constituents in agricultural states like Kentucky it means much.

A strong minority in Congress which has been steadily growing, has for some months been demanding a share of Government internal appropriations for roads. It wants a division of public improvement funds. The claim of this minority, of which several Kentucky Representatives are leaders is that too much already has been given for the improvement of rivers and the construction of public buildings and that the time has come to promote intercourse between farm and town by the building of roads throughout the nation.

The good roads advocates have figured that hundreds of millions of dollars have been applied by the Government, to facilitate navigation. The rivers and harbors of the country have been deepened, channels have been widened, canals have been built, locks and dams have been constructed and shoals have been removed.

To do all this the Treasury has been depleted year by year. The "highway men" as they call themselves, find another parallel in the matter of public buildings. Fifty years ago not a city under 25,000 inhabitants, dreamed of a Federal appropriation for a post-office, but now every town of 1,000 or more people looks to its Congressman for a public building and many have been secured for towns of less than 1,000. All these public works have been generously appropriated for until the aggregate for the past half century reaches beyond the billion-dollar mark.

Only roads have languished at the hands of Congress. Only the rural population has been left out of the appropriation deal. This is the argument of the "highwaymen."

And these estimates, they say do not include the millions that have been paid to the railroads in the form of public land donations to shipping companies as a subsidy to the merchant marine; nor the millions for reclamation and irrigation projects; and for river levees and bank revetements.

These are some of the fiscal facts which the good roads advocates in Congress will use in their fight for recognition. They will, of course, urge in addition to this the right of the farmers to some of the largesse of the Government and will remind Congress that the rural free delivery is the only enactment in years designed wholly for rural benefit.

LEXINGTON, which is now being seen under a commission form of government instead of the old aldermanic system, issues a monthly magazine in which appears complete reports of the proceedings of its various departments as well as outlining the system of commission government. Much valuable and interesting matter is given in each issue of the publication.

TRAVELING northward a column of grasshoppers five miles wide and eighteen miles long was seen last Monday passing over Northeastern New Mexico.

Representatives of a large Ohio glass factory recently visited several cities seeking a new location for their plant. Among the places inspected were Ashland, Ky., and Huntington, W. Va. The last-named city finally was chosen.

In giving his reasons the other day for preferring Huntington as a location the manager of the glass factory said the booster spirit which prevailed in the West Virginia City had much to do with the company's decision. "I never saw so many boosters in one city in my life," he is quoted as saying. The statement moves the Ashland Independent to deplore the lack of the booster spirit in Ashland.

"We have all the natural facilities and more than those enjoyed by our neighboring cities. But we are too slow in telling the world about it. We seem to think that because we know what we have the other fellow ought to see it himself. But the stranger who is here only for a short time cannot know these things as well as we do. It is therefore important that we all join the Booster Club and boost whenever the opportunity presents itself, and then use considerable energy in creating an opportunity. If all join properly in this spirit it would not be long until strangers would say, 'I never saw so many boosters in one city in my life.'"

The booster spirit is not as strong as it should be in some of our Kentucky cities. It is a valuable asset to any community. No town can make much progress without it, for unless the home people talk up the town's advantages strangers are not likely to be impressed. If the man who is looking for a new home or for an industrial location finds in any given locality that boosters and croakers are about equally divided he will pass on, most probably, to another place where there is a smaller element of pessimism and greater degree of confidence.

Boosting does not necessarily mean over-enthusiasm or extravagant assertions. Boosting should square with facts, else it may, like vaulting ambition, overleap itself, but the cheerful and hopeful view should be in evidence. Where there is a marked preponderance of boosting sentiment it augurs well for general progress, and it impresses the stranger favorably. Not much can be accomplished in any community where one body of citizens is trying to build up and another body is decrying the efforts that are being made. In many small towns there is much factional feeling and petty jealousy.

Co-operation and concert of action are the greatest of all factors for community advancement, and these are possible only where the booster spirit is well developed.

"Not gold, but only men can make a city great and strong. Men, who for truth and honor's sake Stand fast and suffer long Brave men who work while others sleep Who dare while others fly— They build a city's pillars deep And lift them to the sky. Blank deeds and mortgages for sale at this office."

The Eighth Grade and Grammar Grade programs rendered by the students of the Graded school were well executed, each one acquiring himself or herself with credit. The exhibition of the year's work which was displayed the last days of the closing exercises, showed conclusively that the school year had been one of hard work, not only with the teachers but the pupils as well.

Are you in arrears for your paper, if so won't you please pay it? We expect every one who receives the paper to pay for it, we are not giving it to you. If it is not worth paying for, then stop taking it, but please pay up before you quit. It costs money and takes a lot of mighty hard work to get out a newspaper, and those who get that paper should expect to pay for it just the same as the merchant whose goods you buy.

Secretary J. W. Kincer of the Rockcastle County Fair is busy getting his catalogue in readiness for that event which takes place Aug. 13 and 15. While Rockcastle has two fairs there is no reason why both of them should not have good show rings and displays and above all a good attendance. It is up to the people to help and make both the Brodhead and Mt. Vernon fairs a success. There is nothing to be gained by doing that which will injure one for the benefit of the other. Speak a good word for both institutions on every occasion and the final result will prove the greatest benefit to all concerned.

COMMERCIAL CLUB—At its Tuesday meeting the club carried out its delayed programs. A large and enthusiastic number were present. Various important subjects were discussed; among them the question of paving Main street with vitrified brick from 1st. street on the East to railroad and putting on its accompanying improvements. The Mt. Vernon Fair received considerable attention. It was voted to give some special premiums by the club one of $35, and every member pledged himself to continue boosting the exhibition. The electric light proposition will be brought to some definite conclusion by next meeting. The next regular meeting was postponed from next Tuesday evening to June 10th. on account of Langdon School commencement exercises taking place next week. Program will be given in next issue of SIGNAL.

The Rockcastle News of Bockchiton Oklahoma publishes the following local concerning Mr. F. M. Lutes, a former Rockcastle citizen, who is now city Judge and one of the prosperous and enterprising citizens of Bockchiton. The article reads:

Never was there a better time for our people to set all kinds of plants—especially of sweet potato slips. Judge Lutes is one who took advantage of the opportunity. He set out 1600 potato plants Monday, together with many cabbage and tomato plants. Every housekeeper should at once put out all the plants possible.

Mt. Vernon Graded School closed Friday May 23 the third year and from what the patrons have to say, it has done a great work. Prof. J. S. Irvine and able assistants, Mrs. A. Fishback, Misses McFerron, Waters and Clark have spared neither time nor energy in placing Mt. Vernon Graded School on a higher Educational plane.

We want to commend the untiring school board for the faithful service rendered, in helping to steer this school to its present high standing. Let every one lend his help that it may extend its influence as an uplift to education throughout the whole county. May we all as patrons of the school and citizens of the town lend a more helping hand to this great work and help hold up the hands of those that are doing the work. We understand the board has secured the service of Prof. Irvine and as many of his teachers as possible for next year and we want to say again that to make the school grow and keep on growing we must join more heartily in the work. Let us, each one say at the close of next year that I helped somebody to succeed.

Judge H. J. Bethurum, of Somerset who has been in Louisville since January 10, most of which time was spent in a hospital where he underwent two surgical operations, and who is now recuperating, is, on the advice of his physician, playing golf daily on the links in Cherokee Park. One day last week his two brothers one of whom conducts a farm in Rockcastle county, came to Louisville to see him, and that afternoon they journeyed to Cherokee to witness the judicial member of the family "tie off" and widely swing the sticks in frantic efforts to send the ball along from one hole to another. It was explained to the brothers by the Judge that the exercise he was getting was so beneficial to his health and was fast building him up to the weight and health he enjoyed before the operations. This was true much for the farmer brother. He immediately stopped the game temporarily and said a few things.

"If exercise is what you are looking for" he said, "you just pack your things and hike to your old home in Rockcastle county. The farming season is in full blast and hands are scarcer than ever known before in that section of the State. I think following a plow will give you more and better exercise than chasing these little rubber pellets four and five miles a day."

With this out of his system the younger Bethurum started for the city to catch a train for home and looking back over his shoulders he took a parting shot at the Judge by wanting to know when "the folks at home could expect him". After reflecting for a short time the Judge announced to his physician and friends that he would be leaving Louisville for Rockcastle county Thursday of this week to try the prescription of his father brother.—Louisville Times.

HERE'S TO THE REPUBLICANS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY!

May you Live as long as you want to, and Vote the Republican Ticket till the Angel of the Lord shall stand on the earth and on the sea and declare that Time shall be no more.

I take this means of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of jailer, of Rockcastle County, subject to the voice of the Republican voters in the primary, on the first Saturday of August, next.

MY REPUBLICANISM

I have shown my faith by my works. Born in a log cabin have never left home.

I PROMISE YOU

That, when nominated and elected I shall make you a sober and efficient officer, I will keep our county jail clean, and in good order, prisoners shall have three square meals a day and clean beds to sleep on. I would not have you believe for a moment that our present and past jailers have not done all that I promise to do, because I believe they have. But one thing sure, I purpose to keep the high standard up and make you an officer that you will not be ashamed of. I believe in the Abe Lincoln type of Republicanism, the kind that Grant, Garfield and McKinley stood for.

Should I be your next jailer, I will sure entertain my friends, "whether inside the jail, or outside" with all of that good old Kentucky hospitality, for which our people are noted.

Should I be your nominee, I promise you now to do my full part in keeping the good, old Republican Banner high in the air, and to never let her trail in the dust. Should some other good Republican be your choice, depend on me to help him keep the old flag up—thru thick and thin.

With kindest regards and best wishes for all.

I beg to remain,

Your friend,

BILLIE BAKER.

Because of the meeting of the General Assembly in Atlanta the dormitory family has been especially favored with helpful guests.—Dr. R. P. Fullerton, Field Secretary of the Board of the Southwest with headquarters in St. Louis, will arrive Monday for a short visit. The Sunday before he will spend in Danville.—The Commencement Address will be delivered by Dr. Francis Irvin of Louisville. His subject will be Happiness and Power.—The Rev. Geo. Watson will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon, using as his subject, The Illumined Life.—The Rev. Mr. Michel of Harlan, will arrive Monday afternoon to stay until Wednesday. He will sing at the Commencement exercises Tuesday evening.

—Mrs. Thos. P. Langdon of Baltimore is expected to arrive for the Commencement exercises.—Miss Dora M. Fish, Treasurer of the Woman's Board of Home Mission will be a guest of the dormitory.

—The Commencement exercises will open up on Friday morning with the closing kindergarten part continuing until Tuesday, when the High School class will graduate.—A part of all of the operetta "Sylvia" will be given on Monday.—The play Alice in Wonderland will be given on Monday by the undergraduates. This following is a synopsis. The play opens with Alice returning from school. Sitting down on a bank to study, she falls asleep. Here the fairies find her and she is sung into Wonderland.

In this strange land many experiences befall her, and she makes both friends and enemies among the queer animals, birds, and frogs. The March Hare tells her there is no room for her at a table set with many plates; then she is invited to have some wine and told there isn't any. The Duchess throws her a baby to nurse and after singing it to sleep she finds it only a pig.

In the last act Alice is called in court to testify against the Knave of Hearts who has stolen the Queen's tarts. The Queen orders the executioner to cut off her head but Alice is saved by the fairies.

OUR NATURAL RESOURCES.

AN ADDRESS BY DR. A. G. LOVELL

Before Mt. Vernon Commercial Club.

"Mr. President:

The subject assigned me is one that I delight to discuss, though some of my audience may think me visionary or dreamy. Indeed I plead guilty to the charge in the indictment. But don't forget that many ancient worthies were thus accused, and honored later for their foreknowledge. That some of these dreams foreshadowed coming events as true as Joseph's of old, is evidenced by the budding interest in the stone, lime, and cement industries of our county.

The Government's report on the soils of Rockcastle show it to be a fair average agricultural county, and need only modern methods to be made a valuable asset.

The assertion that much of the lands in and around Mt. Vernon contains millions of tons of "fishy" to many people; nevertheless, this is a simple statement of fact. Think of it: carbonates and silicates stacked in stratified form, one upon the other, hundreds of feet high, with a railroad at the foot, where everything may be carried by gravitation, even to the loading of the cars. There is enough fire clay and gneiss here to supply all the coke ovens, blast furnaces glass factories and kindred industries of Kentucky and adjoining states for a century. Enough high grade clays of different varieties to support the manufacturing of any branch of clay products for several succeeding generations. Unless there should come an immediate disintegration of our civilization, these things cannot lay dormant much longer. Horace Greely once said, "The greatest asset any country can have is strong, healthy men and women; mentally and physically strong; morally and spiritually healthy." May I add that it takes brain and brawn to unlock our great natural store-houses for distribution. Have we got it? If not, others will supplant us. I may never see it, but 25 years hence the old Wilderness road between and including Mt. Vernon and Pine Hill, will not be a macadamized road, but a paved street throughout. Sited with factories, business houses and dwellings. "Oh," you say that is another dream. Very well. I see it in vision. You shall see it in material."

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest, we find bloodroot, queen's root, bear-drake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes Mr. James G. Kinn, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

BULLETIN

1. The Act of 1912 requires all candidates for the office of County Superintendent, except those who are now in office, to hold a State Certificate issued by the State Board of Examiners which does not expire during the anticipated term of office.

2. The applicant may qualify by taking a special examination to be held in the Department of Education, Frankfort, May 30 and 31, and June 27 and 28. This examination is in all respects equivalent to the examination for the regular State Certificate.

3. The applicant may qualify by taking the regular State Examination, June 20 and 21, either in the county in which the applicant resides or in Frankfort, before the State Board of Examiners.

4. Applicants may qualify after nominations are made in the August Primary. However, there is only one chance after the Primary, and that is in the regular State Examination in August and the candidate can not take this examination, except in his home county, where he expects to run for office, or in Frankfort in the Department of Education.

5. Incumbents in office, under the law, are qualified by virtue of their past tenure of office, to run for re-election without further examination.

6. The 1912 law prescribes that all candidates who are not incumbents in office, must either have a certificate as hereby described, or take this special examination, which is in all respects the equivalent of a State Certificate. Therefore, all such candidates must have taught two years, the time required by law to secure a State Certificate.

BEST MEDICINE FOR COLD

When a druggist recommends a remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he knows what he is talking about. C. Lower, Druggist, of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Chas. C. Davis.

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE-

I want to add just a few more words to my race for Sheriff. I have a new deputy which gives me two, Mr. R. H. Long and Mr. Wade Livesay. Mr. Livesay lives about four miles west of Mt. Vernon, and is a farmer. Now I have nothing to say about my appointees at all. They are good men, but I see Mr. Mullins is scattering pamphlets over the county saying I am a liar; that I have been talking about him. I have made nothing and told on him. I say he is a good man but I see he is trying to down me in every way. I am not the man who told what he has heard. It has been some of his friends who are trying to get me down. I have seen Mr. Mullins and had a talk with him. I only want the people to see this. I told Mr. Mullins that I had heard the talk but I did not start it. So I am seeing why he wants to accuse me of being a liar. I never harm anyone so I want the people to think the matter over. I am only asking for the office one time and if I am nominated, Mr. R. H. Long and Mr. Wade Livesay will be my deputies.

FOREST NURSERIES

Two nurseries for the growth of forest tree seedlings and transplant will be started in the near future, one near Frankfort, Ky. and the other on twenty-five acres of land belonging to the late Fair at Louisville. The State Board of Forestry at its quarterly meeting on April 21 made arrangements to undertake this work. It will cost about $750 each to establish the nurseries and the stock from them will be furnished to the people of the State at cost in order to encourage the re-foresting of cut over areas and waste lands. These nurseries are projects which will be of great benefit to the people of the State and within a very short time will be self-supporting.

Is it possible we are going to get the electric light proposition all? If we do, it seems to us that it is time to just lock up shop and quit. A town with over 200 people, without an electric light plant, simply says to the world that there is something lacking among its citizens. That the Coleman proposition is lost seems to be a certainty and to tell the whole truth, it looks like there is some back water and cold feet all the way round.

HEALTH A FACTOR IN SUCCESS

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all dealers.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caton, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
